Development Time - This is the time we spend on developing your website. This helps to cover the cost of the time taken to build the website. This also includes any additional time spent post-launch on new features requested.

Website Management - This covers the 12 months for managing the website. For example, if an issue was to occur I would go onto the website and attempt to fix it within 48 hours. If a solution cannot be found - I will work on the website with no development time cost to ensure a fix ASAP.

Wix Website Plans - Choosing your wix plan is important, as it determines how much storage and information you receive. Each Wix plan is different, however we recommend the Core plan, which costs less than £200 per year. This is a requirement for things like custom domains, premium features which we will use to enable your site, etc.

Wix Email Plan - This is an optional feature which we can add as part of your plan. Wix charge £22 per month, with an offer available if paid over the year. This allows you to send 5,000 emails per month. This is entirely optional and not necessary. Alternatives for this include systems such as Mailchimp - which may suit your needs more, however they won't be able to access your Wix database.

Subscriptions - This is an optional feature which we will build into your plan to manage player subs or other subscription services you may want to offer. We can add different features, renewal dates and so on, which can also be paid monthly or annually by the end user. This feature is incredibly useful and costs less than any player-sub management system per year.

Community Forums - This feature is another optional feature, which allows us to implement a community forum feature. Essentially, end-users will be able to create and add to forums with different content. We will set up your forum, with different categories and channels, plus the option for administrators to be enabled too.

Store Page - We will enable a shop page just for you, with the ability to add different products and services to your store page. This is really useful for clubs who may be looking to sell kits online with options for collection and delivery.

Event Management - Another optional feature, we are able to add event management to your website which allows you to publish and advertise different events to your website, such as your League AGM or major games such as club finals. This is more suitable for large scale events, such as cup finals or first team fixtures.

Custom Solution - Come to us with any custom features you want, and we will see what we can do! We will keep the charges cheap and ensure that it always suits your needs. Book a consultation, complete a brief and receive your custom solution on your website.

Development Time & Issue Resolution Policies

Development Time Policy

Our Development Time rate of £25 per hour applies solely to the creation of brand new websites and the introduction of new features or significant custom solutions requested after your initial launch. This charge covers the dedicated time spent bringing your vision to life.

Issue Resolution Policy

We aim for seamless operation of your website. Should an issue arise that impacts your site's functionality or availability, our policy is as follows:

48-Hour Resolution Goal: Once we are notified of an issue, our team will work diligently to fix it within 48 hours. We understand that website issues can be disruptive, and prompt resolution is our priority. If our main contact, Josh, is out of the country, this period may be extended until an adequate internet connection and facilities to fix the problem are acquired.

No Development Costs for Fixes: We will not charge any development costs for the time spent resolving bugs, errors, or technical issues with your existing website, regardless of the time taken. Our Website Management fee covers the ongoing effort to maintain your site's health and address such problems.

Beyond 48 Hours: In the rare event that we are unable to resolve an issue within 48 hours, we will continue to work on the fix without charging any additional development costs for that specific resolution effort. Your satisfaction and the swift restoration of your site's full functionality are paramount. Furthermore, if the error persists and isn't fixed within 10 working days, from the time you notified us, we'll offer a free refund for one month's Website Management fee. Your satisfaction and the swift restoration of your site's full functionality are paramount.
